

the exogenous world interest rate determines investment...

...and the difference between saving and investment determines net capital outflow and net exports

